The town is full of rumors of all kinds. Jefferson, rumor says, is to be attacked this week, but no fear is full there, as the bridges and roads to the city are said to be well guarded. Various stories of McCulloch and his army are in irrelation, but nore of them can be traced to a reliable source. Agior Tanner's death was reported this morning, but he is still alive, with little hope of recovery. THERD DISPATCH.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicage Tribune.]

St. Louis, Sept. 37, 1861.

Gen. Fremont's departure for active service causes renewed hopes that Price, Rains and Claib. Jackson may meet their deserts. An arrival from Jefferson City reports two State regiments organized there. Troops are so stationed at Syracuse and Sedalla as to be accusable to Georgetown at short notice. Troops and supplies were arriving at Jefferson City and the state of the fall of the Railroad bridges and track are adequately guarded the entire length of the road.

McCulloch is believed to have joined Price. The new gun boat, Col. McNeil, plated with into made her appearance at the wharf to-day. The gun boat New Ers left for Jefferson city this afternoon. The new gun bost, Cel. McNeil, plated with fron, made her appearance at the wharf to-day. The gun boat New Era left for Jefferson city

Frank Blair refuses to accept his release from arrest, and demands an investigation. The order of release made it appear that he was released as a personal favor to the Poetmaster General. He declines to return to the command of his regiment til the charges against him are investigated. This turn causes fresh excitement. Fremont's departure probably suspends further proceedings at precent.

A response to the charges about Fremont's price for muskets and carbines, states that he had the Governors of New York, Mussachusetts, Ohio and Indians to compete with.

Father Butler, Chaplain of the Iriah Brigade, has been released and srived here to-day.

Graskers predicted immediate commercial rain to the North as the result of the war. They told us that while our exports would be diminished two thirds in the single itsen of Cotton, i uports would sustain comparatively little diministion;—shaw we should thus buy much and sell little—that there would be consequently a heavy drain of speeds from the country, and general bankruptcy would inevitably ensuit.

The dismal prombery has been happly falstified. The war as been in progress five months and we will live!" Noy, more the country is far more prosperous to day than it was when President Lincoln laused his first Procisionation for troops. Business of every kind is reviving. Money is both plenty and easy. Public and private credit are becoming better every day. It was do not sold largely we do not buy extravagantly. The ratio of import and export has undergone comparatively little change.

Better still. The gap in trade created by the Revolution of King Cotton is already better every fave and the plant of the property manufactured into armor plates for the propose the set from the propose the set of the set o

This great export movement has already commenced. For the west ending Tuesday the 17th, the engagements of wheat to France slone, in New York, smounted to over one million of bushels; while the engagements for a ringle day—Wednesday—nn up to the encorrous figure of four hundred thousand bushels! For the same period the engagements of flour have been forty thousand barriels.
